Kuser. The list of ushers is not yet complete.

Mr. Kuser, who is a grandson of the late Senator Dryden of New Jersey, will take his bride to Bernardsville to remain until he completes his course at Princeton University in June. After this they will start for a delayed wedding trip to the far east, visiting China, Japan and India.

With a setting of gorgeous oriental embroideries and robes, a divan of brilliant colors and the seven mystic candles before him, Mr. Stephani Arabian Nights tales in the small ballroom at the New Willard Hotel this evening. The green turban which Mr. Schutze wears denotes his direct descent from Mohammed, the rosary of ninety-nine beads represents ninety-nine sacred names, while the silk tassels stands for the 100th name known only to the initiate. Mr. Schutze wears a gray silk robe bound with crimson. All of the costumes which are worn by Mr. Schutze are accurate oriental costumes.

It is anticipated that the evening with the Arabian Nights stories, as told by the "Wizard of Tales," and given under the management of the Story Teller's League, will be one of the most interesting and sociable of the many delightful affairs typical of the Lenten season.

Mrs. Harry Haas, who has been for some time at the Hotel Chamberlin

Charming Suit Fashions

For the Miss and Her Mother!

There is unusual variety in the cut as well as the trimming of the jackets of the spring models. The showing is at its best right now!

In These Wooltex Spring Suits
The Essence of Style Is Individuality

Fashion is no fetish to a specialist. Every light and shadow, every mood and trend of thought is the inspiration for a particular thing for a particular woman.

Thinking thus, in terms of "the woman" rather than "the women," we have individuality and variety at the same time. This is

Specialization—the Outstanding Feature of Our Women's Suits

In the new modes this specialization is as appealing as it is apparent—carrying the note of spring in each garment with particular adaptability to the type of woman for whom it is intended. Three smart Wooltex styles are sketched—

$59.50 (center)—Trim tailored suit of navy serge with novel shaped pockets bound with cord braid.

$85 (right)—Distinguished Wooltex suit with single button fastening and horizontal tucks that end in rows of buttons outlining the panel back. Skirt, gathered in back, has silk pockets, button trimming, and a wide back-fastening belt.
